

Table 1. Thesis and Non-thesis Options

	Non-thesis Option	Thesis Option
Core Courses	NUTR 6105 Human Nutrition in Physiology and Metabolism (3 sh) Take this course as early in the program as possible BIOS 7021 Biostatistics for Health Professionals I (3 sh) Take this course as early in the program as possible Pre-requisite requirement: Minimum grade of C in College Algebra, completed in past 5 years NUTR 6200 Methods in Nutrition Research (3 sh) Take this course as early in the program as possible	NUTR 6105 Human Nutrition in Physiology and Metabolism (3 sh) Take this course as early in the program as possible BIOS 7021 Biostatistics for Health Professionals I (3 sh) Take this course as early in the program as possible Pre-requisite requirement: Minimum grade of C in College Algebra, completed in past 5 years NUTR 6200 Methods in Nutrition Research (3 sh) Take this course as early in the program as possible
Research/ Professional Practice Component	NUTR 6600 Management in Dietetics (3 sh) Offered summer term only NUTR 6900 Review of Current Literature (generally students are enrolled in this course their final semester, discuss with your Advisor when to enroll in this course; 2 sh) Advisor permission required for enrollment. Enroll in this course with your Advisor listed as the instructor. NUTR 6950 Seminar in Nutrition (generally students are enrolled in this course their final semester, discuss with your Advisor when to enroll in this course; 1 sh) Advisor permission required for enrollment. Enroll in this course with your Advisor listed as the instructor.	NUTR 7000 Thesis Take 1st time during semester you will complete and defend Thesis Proposal (3 sh) Advisor permission required for enrollment. Enroll in this course with your Advisor listed as the instructor. NUTR 7000 Thesis Taken 2nd time during semester you will complete and defend thesis (3 sh) Advisor permission required for enrollment. Enroll in this course with your Advisor listed as the instructor. BIOS 7022 Biostatistics for Health Professionals II (3 sh) This course is available face-to-face only at ECU. NUTR 6950 Seminar in Nutrition (1 sh) (generally students are enrolled in this course their final semester, discuss with your Advisor when to enroll in this course) Advisor permission required for enrollment. Enroll in this course with your Advisor listed as the instructor.
Concentration	18 semester hours of coursework approved by your Advisor.	14 semester hours of coursework approved by your Advisor.